

Race Relations

Resourcing Your Congregation as You Dismantle Racism

What We Do

The Office of Race Relations resources Christian Reformed members and congregations as you dismantle the causes and effects of racism within the body of believers and throughout the world. We help you to live as God's diverse and unified family.

We provide effective and collaborative training, programs, and organizing actions in ways that mobilize Christian Reformed agencies and educational institutions, as well as classes and congregations to recognize, expose, and dismantle racism in all its forms and to experience true biblical reconciliation as a diverse and unified people of God.

We are blessed by three kinds of financial support: CRC ministry shares, designated church offerings, and generous gifts from people like you. Thank You!

Our Mandate

The CRC Office of Race Relations is mandated by synod "to design, organize, and implement programs that will assist the denomination, churches, and members in eliminating the causes and effects of racism within the body of believers and throughout the world."

What Our Work Looks Like:

- Offering workshops and coaching for CRC members and congregations in both Canada and the United States who sense that we still have much work to do to live fully as God's diverse and unified family.
- Providing college scholarships for racial minority people.
- Collaborating with many CRC ministries to address bias and racism within our denomination.
- Encouraging and empowering ethnic minority leaders of various backgrounds through networks of support.
